August Technical Tour

DID YOU KNOW...?

- About 71% of Earth is covered in water, but roughly 97% of it is salty ocean water.
- An estimated 59% of Earth's species live in the soil, making it the planet's most biodiverse habitat
- Aluminum can be recycled continuously without losing its quality, and recycling a single aluminum can saves enough energy to power a television for over 3 hours.

On August 7th, the Chapter toured the Austin Resource Recovery Recycle and Reuse Center to observe and discuss sustainability and green initiatives with their efforts involving recycling, composting, trash, brush, bulk, household hazardous waste, clothing and textiles, and dead animals.

This was a great to see how this facility has expanded its capabilities to help the City of Austin, including the new Styrofoam recycling process.

Anniversary Celebration

The Chapter celebrated an anniversary on July 10th at Holey Moley Golf Club in Austin. This was a good time to ignore work and catch up with old friends.

September Business

September was busy with the AHMP EHS Hazmat Summit in New Orleans from September 29th through October 1st. Elena Ford and Sarah Anderson represented the chapter, as we were recognized with the Distinguished Chapter Award.

A virtual business meeting was held on September 11th. For specific information, email the Chapter or see our website for past meeting minutes.

About us...

The Lone Star Chapter of Alliance of Hazardous Materials Professionals is an organization that enhances professional development through networking with other local EHS professionals from a variety of industries, state agencies, and other private entities. The Lone Star Chapter promotes the CHMM/CHMP credential on a national and international level. National AHMP provides regulatory updates and professional conferences. By participating in our local training and being trained in new areas of the profession, members are able to earn CMPs for re-certification. The Lone Star Chapter is committed to opening the doors for many members and welcoming new ones.
